Citronelle, the world-famed resort, with springs of purest free-stone water lies in the heart of the long-leaf yellow pine district of southern Alabama, 33 miles north of Mobile, at an elevation of 360 feet above Mobile Bay.

Mobile, the second city in size in Alabama and the only seaport of the state, is a beautiful city enjoying an excellent climate the year round. Mobile is the gateway to the beautiful Gulf Coast Country, particularly the Mobile Bay region. Here will be found playgrounds of every kind, salt or fresh water surf for the bather, large variety of salt and fresh water "live ones" for the lover of rod and reel, ideal courses for the golfer.

Azalea Trail—Starting generally about the first of March and lasting over a period of several weeks the Azaleas in and around Mobile burst forth in all their glory of color and profusion. A renowned columnist has this to say of one of the Azalea Gardens: "I have seen the beautiful gardens all over the world—in England, France, Germany, Japan, as well as in this country—but I have never seen anything so gorgeous as Bellingrath Gardens."

Of special significance in the growth, commerce and prosperity of Mobile is the Alabama State Docks, a gigantic ten million dollar project recently completed. It was designed to double the capacity of the port of Mobile and to provide manufacturing sites at shipside and railside.

Stanton Curtis, General Passenger Agent, Mobile & Ohio Railroad. St. Louis, Mo., will gladly tell you more about this beautiful region. Drop him a line.
